

Dear Sunday & After School Staff,

We thank you so much for the love and care you give our precious diamond, Shifra. Just to give you an idea of how happy you make her picture a morning scene of Shifra getting up in the morning. She washes her hands, throws away the water and gets new water for the next day, chooses her clothes, and then the all important question "What day is today?"

"Sunday," I answer

"HaMaspiK" a question and statement rolled up into one. The scene repeats itself the next day.

"What day is today?"

"Monday"

"HaMaspiK and School" HaMaspiK comes first - always!!

Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday. She tolerates Friday and more because she knows she only has HaMaspiK on Sunday for a long time.

So there's say

nothing more to except;

Thank You!

Sincerely,
Mr. & Mrs. Hurwitz
